20 Named to Sphinx Club Honors

Fifteen students were named to the Sphinx Club Thursday at Activities Honors Day.

The club, considered the top honorary organization for students involved in activities, also picked four adults and a girl athlete for honorary membership.

New members are: Michael G. Peck, Douglas C. Kopecky, John Paul Davis, Marsha L. Journey, Brent W. Williams, Martha L. Edmison, Paul G. Schoen.

Richard L. Gregg, Cora L. Hilliard, Lavona J. Shea, Brenda S. Loverkamp, Ronald E. Knaack, George J. Paluch, Marilyn D. Maibes and William V. Moore.

Honorary members are Ralph E. Prusok, associate dean of students; Donald Idhe, assistant professor of philosophy; Ralph A. Ruffner, vice president for area and student services; Philip A. Scheurer, a member of the Activities Office staff; and Judy Wills, SIU's champion women gymnast.

Picked as outstanding freshmen were Larry Bockman and Rebecca Brown.

Keith Phoenix and Janice Sirles were named outstanding sophomores.

The students and faculty were awarded the distinction at the 13th annual Honor's Day program Thursday in the Arena.

About 385 students in all were presented with awards.

SIU Asks Missouri Valley to Wait

Plans Drawn For Footspan Over U.S. 51

Engineering drawings are being completed for a 750-foot-long pedestrian overpass linking University Park with the main campus. The project possibly could be started early this summer.

The bridge will cross both the Illinois Central railroad tracks and U.S. 51, according to John S. Rendleman, vice president for business affairs.

The J. L. Simmons Construction Co., Inc. of Decatur, general contractor on University Park, has been invited to submit a bid on the overpass. The firm was accorded first-bid privileges because of a previous commitment for the project within the Neely Hall construction contract.

John Lonergan, SIU landscape architect, said the span will be all concrete and will run from a point slightly southwest of the old Health Service building near Neely to the north side of Harwood Avenue, about 100 feet from the U.S. 51 intersection.

The bridge will be 18 feet wide and will be sloped to a grade of 5 to 6 per cent, Lonergan said. This will enable easy use by wheelchair students, he said. The grade compares to that of the driveway in front of the industrial education wing of University School.

At its highest point, above the tracks, the overpass will be 22 1/2 feet high. It will cross U.S. 51 at a height of 14 1/2 feet.

Lonergan said 15,000 students now cross the tracks and highway each day at the Harwood site. Completion of Brush Towers, two additional 17-story residence halls in the University Park complex, will boost that figure to 22,000 and accelerated construction of private dormitories on the east side will mean 30,000 trips a day in the future.

Athletics Should Be Treated With Respect, Lutz Tells Thompson Point Honors Group

A college or university is not worthy of an athletic program if it slights that program or treats it as a necessary evil, baseball Coach Joe Lutz said Wednesday night.

"Athletics should be treated with respect and dignity," he said.

"A good athlete does not ask for special treatment; he can make it on his own. He is not a prima donna."

Lutz's comments came in a speech at the fifth annual Thompson Point activities banquet held in Lentz Hall.

Mike Peck, retiring area president, received the $100 outstanding resident award.

Vicki Schubert and James N. Worobey received $35 runner-up awards.

Peck also received the outstanding citizen and Executive Council awards.

Outstanding resident fellow awards went to Susan E. Lampert, Bowyer Hall, and James A. Smithson, Warren Hall.

New members of the Pyramid Club, an organization recognizing exemplary service to Thompson Point, were announced. New honorary members are Patrick M. Conway, Thompson Point area head; Thomas W. Dardis, assistant area head; Barbara Higler, assistant to the area head; Ralph E. Prusok, associate dean of student affairs; William C. Bleyer, assistant coordinator of student activities; B. K. Leiter, managing editor of the Daily Egyptian; William W. Stacey, resident counselor at Baldwin Hall; Mrs. Pauline B. Hinkley, supervisor of the Lentz Hall snack bar; Mrs. Minnie Mae Pitkin, executive aide to President Morris; and John Paul Davis, retiring student body vice president.

Newly elected student members of the Pyramid Club are Mary Anne Porter, Miss Schubert, Thomas F. Wunderlich, Worobey, Kenneth M. Wolfson, Judith A. Sager, Kasandra J. Winsor, Kenneth M. Pearson, James A. Smithson, James E. Pettigrew Jr., Lois F. Kimble and Judith L. Hill.

Abbott and Steagall Halls were selected outstanding residence halls.

Morris Asks Decision Delay Pending Policy Evaluation

President Delyte W. Morris has written a letter to the president of the Missouri Valley Conference suggesting that SIU not be considered for membership at this time.

Morris has asked that consideration of membership be withheld until the present study and evaluation of SIU's position regarding athletics is completed.

In the letter to Philip Baker, Bradley University, Morris said, "We wish to inform you of this study and suggest that no consideration of membership of SIU in the Missouri Valley Conference be made at this time or during the study period."

It was announced Thursday that Memphis State University, with independent teams in both football and basketball, was admitted to the Missouri Valley Conference, effective immediately.

The new member will compete in all the spring sports next year, for the basketball title in 1967-68 and possibly for the 1968 football championship.

The SIU Study Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics, will be composed of representatives from the University faculty, the student body and non-academic offices. Also included will be one member of the committee on intercollegiate athletics, a representative of the public and an SIU alumnus. The commission is expected to be organized by spring commencement.

"If everything goes well," according to Charles D. Tenney, vice president for planning and review, "The committee could make a report to the president by Jan. 1, 1967."

Tenney said that he would not be surprised if the committee came up with a plan of alternatives instead of a flat proposal.

The results of the report will be presented to the president and the Board of Trustees, and they can accept or ignore the report, or parts of the report, Tenney said.

However, because the administration is seeking good advice, Tenney feels the results of the committee will have a strong bearing on the final decision.

Memphis State, an independent power in both football and basketball the past decade and consistent winner in the post-World War II era, was admitted to the Missouri Valley Conference Thursday, effectively immediately, the Associated Press reported.

Valley faculty representatives gave their formal approval at their annual spring meeting. Memphis State will participate as a full member at the meetings. Norvall Nave, Valley commissioner, said the new member will compete in all spring sports next year.

Bureaucracy Could Cause Another Loss of Materials

This year's Spring Festival could better be termed a "Spring Flop."

The poor crowds at this year's affair were pitiful compared to last year, when thousands of students waited their turn to watch the Greek entries in the Midway shows.

The small turnout this year was not because of a lack of planning or poor organization on the part of the student co-chairmen, but rather the fault is for "misplacing" the lumber that the social fraternities were planning to use in building their shows.

It is difficult to pin blame on any specific individuals or office in the University. Rather, the fault lies with an overlapping of authority among various divisions of the University.

As far as could be determined in an investigation by the Security Office, the materials that the fraternities had stored under care of the University were ordered removed by William J. Keeper, dean of the School of Agriculture. Keeper had supposedly been told by President Morris during his visits to the University Farms that the stone house where the lumber was stored and some of the farms nearby were an unsightly mess, and should be cleaned up.

The Student Activities Office notified several of the fraternities last term that they had to remove the lumber, or else it would be hauled away.

The only problem was, the fraternities were contacted on the last day of finals, late Friday afternoon, when most of the residents had gone home. They could not possibly have removed the material in the few hours that they were given, nor did they have a new place for it.

On the following weekend, a campus visitor toured the University Farms area with President Morris and Dean Keeper. A spokesman for the University said that the material at the stone house was removed because the visitor, an official from Mali, was coming.

Good housekeeping on the campus is a fine thing, but when the property of student groups under care of the University is discarded to carry out this policy, then the Administration has gone too far in its beautiful campus program.

The fraternities were able to enter only a single Inter-Greek show, with a band and dance area on the Midway, because the grant in restitution for the lost material was delayed. It was not sufficient to reimburse two houses that sustained the greatest loss.

Commenting on the situation, Ralph E. Prusok, associate dean of students, said, "In a large university, you can't help but have many offices, and it's bound to happen that mistakes will be made."

"I think that the type of bureaucracy that we have here is better than a dictatorship though," Prusok said.

Mistakes like this undermine students' attitudes toward the University, and there is no guarantee that the material won't be hauled away again.

The Housing Office has requested that the material be stored behind Group Housing, but the danger of its being removed from there still exists.

Masculine Beauty Aids

What's This About Men Losing Virility? No Brass-Knuckle Handles for Women

"Aftershave, deodorants, colognes for men are here, accepted, established. Now it is time for other toiletries designed for men to be adopted . . ." says the latest issue of Gentlemen's Quarterly.

It goes on to recommend a face mask to condition the skin, a skin softener, eye pads to soothe and cool the eyes, and talcum powder to discourage shine.

These products and the trend in men's clothing to be more colorful have brought a lot of hairy fists crashing down on tables across the country. The crashing fists are trying to drive home their point.

Which point? That depends on to whom the fist belongs. Some critics claim that this "feminization" of styles is a Communist plot to undermine our virility. Others blame the trend on woman fashion editors. Still other feel that any man who wears the "pretty" products has abnormal sexual preferences.

It's hard to determine which side of the controversy is more ridiculous—the marketing of these products or the criticism of them. Cosmetics are not inherently masculine or feminine—only through our culture's past view of them have they been assigned to the females.

If cosmetics' role in our society changes, the fact that a man wears a wig, lipstick, carries a purse, or any other similar object currently considered feminine, will not have anything to do with his virility.

Still, why should men decide (if they are the ones making the decision) that this change is desirable? It has been said that men are more vain than women, but in the past they have been vain about their handsomeness, not their beauty.

For instance, in a sketch by Bob and Ray, comedians, a grizzled old sea captain says, "Excuse me now. I have to go out and get grizzled." Some of this ruggedness must still be valued, for even the male perfumes come in bottles of leather or wood or flasks with animal hide on them.

The unhappiest thing about the whole trend is that men are beginning to feel that they need something that is really not a necessity. No longer will they be able to say to their wives, "I don't see why you fool with all that stuff," for they may be in the middle of their own facials.

A hopeful note to those who fear man's loss of virility: Faberge (well known to the ladies) now manufactures a box of Brut (aftershave scent) body powder that comes with its own powder puff. But the handle of the powder puff is shaped like a set of brass knuckles.

Now how can there be any worries with a masculine product like that?

Health Service Has Improved; Good That It's Only Temporary!

To the editor:

At 2:45 p.m. I walked into Small Group Housing 115, the old Sig Tau House, and was impressed with the antiseptic-like appearance of the Student Health Service's temporary building.

The cheerful colors and the efficient secretaries immediately assured me that this is a fantastic improvement over the old temporary health service across from "Sin City."

It's now 3:15 p.m. and I'm beginning to notice that there are still quite a few fellow students ahead of me—Oh well! I'm not worried. This still beats waiting in the crowded second floor of the old place.

I remember sitting with six other people on wooden chairs in an area that should only have accommodated three students. I'm sure glad that Jan Nicpon organized that special student senate committee to improve the University Health Service.

It's 3:30 p.m. and the nurse checked my name to see how long it will be till I see a doctor. (Boy, I'm sure glad I paid all my fees, otherwise, this trip to the doctor would really put a dent in my budget. I wonder how much that fee was!)

The nurse said that it will still be another thirty minutes. That's OK! (I'll skip the library this afternoon.)

It is now 4:05 p.m.—I wonder if I'm in the right building? . . . It won't be long now, there are three doctors on duty. 4:09 p.m. Something mumbled over the loud speaker that sounded like my name. I'll check. Wrong person—Go to jail. Do

Petition to Repeal State Loyalty Oath Calls for Boycott

To the editor:

I call on all loyal Americans not to sign that petition going around to repeal the loyalty oath.

What is so harmful in requiring all civil servants of this state, which includes teachers, to state in similar words, before applying for a job, "I uphold the United States Constitution and I am not affiliated or hold loyalty to any Communist or subversive power."

If this oath is ever repealed, it will give any communist or subversive character the right to teach in any public school and to hold any state job, which will in fact give him or her the right to also make policies concerning our state.

These people who are so quick to want to repeal this law, turn around on the other hand and support the Cibaugh Act which bans subversive speakers from speaking on the campuses of state universities.

PAINFUL TOUCH OF DEMOCRACY

Composed During Monsoon

'Brown Army Boots' Song Sweeps World

By Rick Friedman

Chou En Biez, the Formosan fighter pilot and folk singer, has been making personal appearances in town the past few days and Watts suggested I interview him.

I found Chou En Biez and his interpreter sipping tea in their hotel suite at the Waldorf. Through the interpreter—Chou En Biez speaks no English—I learned the fighter pilot and folk singer would be in this country for at least six months—and hopefully longer.

In addition to the usual appearances on the Soupy Sales, Ed Sullivan and the Sammy Davis shows, the State Department has lined up a number of other guest appearances for him. He is to play a sinister Red Chinese arch criminal called "The Proliferator" on Batman and an old Nationalist Chinese doctor dying of cancer on Dr. Kildare.

"The doctor's last wish," Chou En Biez explained through the interpreter, "is to see his Chinese mission hospital once more—free of Communist domination, of course."

Chou En Biez's one fear was that Chiang Kai-shek would take back the Chinese mainland while Chou En was appearing on the Ed Sullivan Show.

Chou En—insisted I call him Chou En—said he found Americans a wonderful, warmhearted people who still loved Chiang Kai-and Mrs. shek just like in the old days.

He gave no credence to the Communist-inspired rumblings that the United States should abandon Formosa and the Chiangs. The proof of this, Chou En went on, was the way his hit war song, "Brown Army Boots," has been received here as one of the top hits.

Chou En put his tea down and began marching around the hotel room in his highly polished brown army boots,

Crockett, Washington Evening Star

WAITING FOR THE NEXT KY MOVE

singing in the only English he knew:

Brown Army Boots/slogging through the mud. Brown Army Boots/going thud, thud, thud.

Pointed to the mainland/pointed to the mainland. Pointed to Mao Tse-tung, that Commie Crud.

"It loses something in the translation," Chou En's interpreter explained. "We don't have any Nationalist Chinese word for 'Crud.'"

After he finished singing and marching, Chou En sat down again to sip some more tea. Through the interpreter, he explained how "Brown Army Boots" was written.

Since 1948, Chou En was part of Chiang's crack troops, "The Brown Army Boots," who were being specially trained to retake the Chinese mainland. A native Formosan, he quickly rose from courier to crack fighter pilot flying reconnaissance missions over Red China in American U-2 planes.

Last year, the monsoon season hit with its worst intensity in years. All reconnaissance planes were grounded for weeks.

About a decade ago, while ranging the Maine Coast, we ran into delectable Castine with its gracious homes and current river.

We dined with Molly Dewson, one of the gallant women who was a mighty aid to F.D.R. She was past 80 years of age. Someone mentioned a new African nation, which Molly said, "Must I, at 80, take on another new continent?"

Wendell Willkie had preached One World—a concept of total good will, but impotent unless the three billion inhabitants of our one world develop some slight knowledge of the 114 nations in the United Nations, the 4 trusteeship or mandated lands, the 9 major nations not in the United Nations, the 75 minor countries not in the United Nations, and maybe the 18 more pieces of inhabited soil scarcely recorded.

One of the major embarrassments to a One World is, of course, ignorance of one nation of another. To lessen glibness, if for not other reason, I have prepared a social atlas or catalogue of the world.

To my surprise, no such volume exists—maybe because outside of the statistics collated by the United Nations and its collateral organizations, man has no factual knowledge of essential factors of the economics and cultures

"If Chiang had decided to recapture the Chinese mainland at that moment, he would have been in trouble, morale was that bad. I knew I had to do something. I looked at my American-made highly polished brown army boots and the inspiration hit me.

"Though I had never written a song before in my life, the morale of the Chinese Nationalist Army was at stake. So, as those monsoon rains poured down on our American-made planes mired in the mud, as the men grimly repolished their American-made brown army boots, given to them personally by Chiang, I—how do you clever Americans say it—I polished off 'Brown Army Boots.'

"I'll never forget the first time I sang it in the barracks. The men polishing their boots looked up, then one by one began to join in song as they polished. Soon the whole company was marching around the barracks in their stocking feet, boots and polish in hand, singing my song. It was awe-inspiring to see their morale soar.

"When the monsoon stopped, our men took to the air in the American U-2 planes singing 'Brown Army Boots.' Your U.S. Information Agency heard about it and had me record it for beaming into Red China.

"To everyone's surprise, it became the No. 1 hit in Red China within a month. A French journalist heard it, took it back to Paris. From what I understand, De Gaulle hummed a few bars to your Dean Rusk, and later Mr. Rusk whistled it for your great President.

"And the next thing I knew I was over here giving a command performance in the White House."

Chou En put his tea down again and began marching around the room singing:

Brown Army Boots/marching in a group Brown Army Boots/going troop, troop, troop. Pointed to the mainland/pointed to the mainland.

Pointed to Mao Tse-tung/that Commie dupe.

"Actually, we have no Nationalist Chinese word for 'dupe,'" the interpreter explained. "Our Nationalist Chinese version is much stronger but we were afraid we'd never get it past your American Supreme Court."

Chou En sat down again and sighed: "'Brown Army Boots' is a great hit in Peking. It's going over big in Paris. It's No. 1 here in the United States. But it hasn't done a damn thing in Formosa. Despite the fact the people have to sing it by government decree."

"How come it's doing so badly there?" I asked.

"It can't compete with American folk songs," Chou En explained. "The biggest hit right now among native-born Formosans is your 'We Shall Overcome.'" millions have, as yet, no written language at all.

Annual per capita income shows a range declining from $2,625 in one country, to $25 in eight, with 43 nations having under $100 per capita income.

The number of daily newspapers ranges from 510 to 1,000 inhabitants for one country to one per 10,000 inhabitants for another, while radio receivers run from 1,000 per 1,000 people in one country to under 10 per 1,000 inhabitants in 25 nations.

We have statistics on television sets from only about 70 lands, and here the gap is from 330 per 1,000 people in one nation to three per 100,000 in another. Of course, many places have no means of either radio or television or of printed communication.

And so, the gap appears in number of doctors, nurses, schools, etc. The matrix of our difficulty in terms of foreign service lies in the vastness of the gap.

We must attack international ignorance not in terms of policy problems, but for all people in terms of factors that declare a way of life. The gaps produce acute and national envy for the have-less nations and a kind of tender, but invalid, sense of quiet in the breasts of the more skilled, the more inventive and hence the more fortunate in terms of production wealth.

Former Adviser to Diem to Speak

South Viet Nam Politics to Be Talk Topic

"Viet Nam: Problems of Politics and Policy" will be the topic of a talk by a Michigan State University professor at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in French Auditorium of the Life Science Building.

WESLEY R. FISHEL

Wesley R. Fishel, professor of political science at MSU and an authority on Far Eastern affairs, will analyze some of the problems of South Vietnamese politics and will discuss American foreign policy in the area.

Fishel has been personally involved in the U.S. program in South Viet Nam. He was a consultant on government reorganization to the U.S. Foreign Operations Administration, assisting President Ngo Dinh Diem, from August to November, 1954.

A special adviser to President Diem in 1955, Fishel was also a member of the staff of Gen. J. Lawton Collins, President Eisenhower's special representative in Saigon, 1954-55.

From 1956-68 Fishel was the chief adviser of the Michigan State Advisory Group.

He also has visited Viet Nam to study the Vietnamese government's program of land and village development. In November, 1964, Fishel returned to Viet Nam as a special correspondent for the Washington Post and the North American Newspaper Alliance.

His last visit to the country was in August, 1965, when he was chairman of the board of American Friends in Viet Nam, under whose guidance some American universities "adopted" Vietnamese villages to further their progress in education and health.

Fishel has also performed official governmental services in Korea and Japan. He is the author of four books on China, Korea and Viet Nam and frequently contributed articles to scholarly journals. He is chairman of the editorial board of Vietnam Perspectives, published in New York City, and is general advisory editor on Southeast Asia for Encyclopedia International.

Fishel received his bachelor's degree from Northwestern University and his doctorate from the University of Chicago.

He taught at the University of California at Los Angeles for three years before joining the MSU faculty in 1951.

Time Is Running Out For Ky, Officials Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a new outburst of violence at Da Nang, U.S. officials are beginning to judge that time is running out for the efforts of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky to put down rebel opposition and restore his authority over South Viet Nam's key northern provinces.

The Johnson administration continues to support the Ky regime although U.S. officials were angry with Ky last week-end for sending troops to Da Nang without consulting or even telling the United States.

In the civil strife between Ky and rebellious Buddhist and military groups at Da Nang and Hue, administration officials say the U.S. role is solely that of a peacemaker with an accord between the rebels and Saigon as the major objective.

But the feeling in high quarters here is that such an accord must be reached urgently if the situation is not to get progressively worse.

Yet there seems to be little real optimism that it will be reached quickly. The expectation here is that the situation will almost certainly get worse, and therefore Ky's handling of the crisis becomes increasingly a focus of concern.

Officials say that while the United States has worked closely with Ky since he became premier in July 1965, it is in no sense committed personally to him or to any other individual.

In these circumstances it is conceivable that unless the crisis can be quickly resolved, President Johnson will at some early point reconsider U.S. policy in support of Ky.

Officials refuse even in private conversation to make predictions about the future. Although Secretary of State Dean Rusk has spoken hopefully of planned steps to give the country a constitutional government, including election of a Constituent Assembly in September, there is deep pessimism over whether this election process may not sharpen rather than overcome South Viet Nam's political divisions.

British Housewives Begin to Win Battle

LONDON (AP) — Britain's housewives have begun winning the price battle against profiteers trying to cash in on fears of a food shortage in the national seamen's strike.

But the Labor government dug in for a long war against its traditional political supporters in the trade unions. At issue is Prime Minister Harold Wilson's national policy of voluntary price and wage restraint. The unions are his No. 1 target.

Prices for meat, fruit and vegetables, mostly imported at this time of year, leveled off Thursday.

POINT OF NO RETURN

Working Majority May Dwindle at GOP Hands

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration faces less of its working majority in the House of Representatives unless it can keep Republican gains in this year's elections well below the average of past midterm tests.

The party in power has lost an average of 37 seats in the past nine off-year congressional elections. But even a switch of just 20 seats from proadministration Democrats to antiadministration Republicans would have defeated many of President Johnson's major proposals in the House this year.

Thus unless the Democrats keep their losses to the barest minimum, the old coalition between the Republicans and Southern Democrats that dominate the House for a quarter of a century, might be back in business next January.

Chairman Chides Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Emanuel Celler of the House Judiciary Committee chided Chief Justice Earl Warren today for describing pending congressional legislation on jury selection as "ill-advised."

"It is unseemly for a Supreme Court justice to comment on legislation pending in Congress," the New York Democrat said during hearings on the administration's 1966 Civil Rights bill.

The most recent example of how narrow the administration's working edge is as compared to its current numerical majority of 154 seats over the GOP came Wednesday when the Democratic leadership pushed through a bill providing for pooling and sale of government loans and mortgages by a mere 16 votes, 206 to 190.

Earlier in the session, the administration won approval of funds for its controversial rent supplement program by margins of six and four votes, and won fights over phone and auto excise taxes, and a vice-presidential mansion by 20 and 13 votes.

On each of these issues, a few Republicans jumped their party track to join Democrats in putting the measure across, while the main body of Republicans was supported by Southern Democrats. But Wednesday, all 126 Republicans who voted were in the opposition camp.

Once again, freshman Democrats from normally Republican districts gave the Democrats their victory by voting for the bill.

Attitude Better Towards Arrival Of Corpsmen

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP)—Six months ago residents of this capital city were bitterly debating establishment of a federal Job Corps camp near Bismarck.

This week, about 75 Bismarck couples attended orientation conferences at the center, indicating they might be willing to bring corpsmen into their homes to show them what family life is like.

Is it a change of heart from last December when the controversy split the all-white community into a battle with racial overtones?

Not exactly, but the furor has died down. Most believe the attitude now is one of waiting for the Job Corps to prove itself.

The 200 trainees to be assigned to the center won't arrive until mid-August. About 100 of the youths will be Negroes.

Part of the preparation blossomed in what is called the "family welcome plan."

First of its kind in the nation, center officials say it is their attempt to turn out a "whole" corpsman who can take his place in society. "You can't teach 'family' in the classroom," asserted the center director, Douglas Duncan.

"These kids have got to see what a family is like."

The family welcome plan, as proposed by Duncan and the Bismarck Ministerial Association, would involve a family inviting a corpsman to its home once or twice a week just to take part in whatever the family is doing that day.

Shooting of Bear Ends Area Hunt

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Authorities reported Thursday having shot a bear ending a two-county search involving dozens of hunters, many of whom questioned whether it was a bear they were chasing.

Officials said the bear was cornered and shot near Waltonville in Jefferson County near the Big Muddy River.

Southern Illinois has not had a native wild bear since the 19th century, but was thick this week with bear reports.

Officials said the bear shot today presumably is the one which rural residents have been reporting since Sunday in Jefferson County.

'NOW, BOYS, CAREFUL WITH YOUR SHIP OF STATE'

Parents Await Word Of Son's Whereabouts

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Aaron and Sally Goldman, left with little hope that their kidnapped son Danny is still alive, appealed to the unknown abductor Thursday to let them know where the boy's body is.

"If the man still has Danny alive and we pray that he does we will do anything," said Goldman, 47, a building contractor. "But if the man has killed Danny, it is very cruel of him not to let us claim his body."

Danny, a day short of his 18th birthday, was hustled out of the Goldman home early on March 28 by a middle-aged man who said he wanted $15,000 ransom.

Goldman, who made a fortune in building, said he had lost all interest in his work. "I have no new business ventures," he said. "I can't do much business any more."

His wife, 44 once a professional interior decorator, just sits in their luxurious surf-side house and waits.

"I don't go out any more," she said. "I just wait for my Danny."

Danny was their only child. He arrived prematurely after Mrs. Goldman had suffered two miscarriages. The boy weighed only 2 pounds, 6 ounces and spent his first eight weeks inside an incubator.

Indiana Murderess Will Appeal Guilty Verdict

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Gertrude Baniszewski, one of five persons found guilty of a torture slaying described as the "most vicious thing, the most hideous thing Indiana has ever seen," will appeal her conviction.

A jury of eight men and four women early Thursday recommended life imprisonment for Mrs. Baniszewski in the death of 16-year-old Sylvia Likens. Her daughter, Paula, 18, was convicted of second-degree murder, punishable by life imprisonment.

The jury deliberated 8 hours and 10 minutes. The trial began April 18.

Mrs. Baniszewski, 37, had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. The others pleaded innocent.

William C. Erbecker, attorney for the mother of seven, had asked the death penalty for his client if she were adjudged sane.

Deputy Prosecutor Leroy K. New had asked capital punishment for all five defendants.

"This case has never had it's equal," New said. "It's the most vicious thing, the most hideous thing Indiana has seen."

The five were charged with first-degree murder in Sylvia's Oct. 26, 1965, death. The girl boarded at the Baniszewski home while her parents toured with a carnival.

The state charged the five beat, branded, burned, and otherwise abused Sylvia for 10 days prior to her death and forced her to sleep on a pile of rags in the basement with two dogs. Testimony indicated the torture started after Sylvia reportedly had said Mrs. Baniszewski and Paula were whores.

Saluki Women Golfers Enter Midwest Tourney at Normal

SIU women's golf team will travel today to Illinois State University at Normal to compete in the Midwest Intercollegiate Women's Golf Tournament.

More than nine universities and 50 women will participate in the event today and tomorrow.

The 36-hole tournament is broken down into two classes, champion and class A. The first 18-hole round will determine the division of the contestant. Today's best shooters will be in the champion class and those with higher scores in class A.

The Salukis are placing their hopes on Lynn Hastie, Carterville, and Paula Smith, Belleville, to bring back the individual honors in the champion class.

Miss Hastie and Miss Smith both have won major tournaments in the areas. Miss Hastie's most recent victory was in the Crab Orchard Golf Club Jadin championship in 1965. She was the winner of the Crab Orchard tournament for four consecutive years, 1962 through 1965.

Miss Smith won the St. Louis District junior girls golf championship in 1963 and then again the following year.

The Salukis defeated the University of Illinois at Urbana in Southern's last home match. Southern took first, third, fifth, and tied for fourth place.

SIU's MacLachlan Granted Internship

Bruce B. MacLachlan, assistant dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, has been named to an academic administration internship by the American Council on Education.

As one of 41 interns chosen for the 1966-67 academic year, he will be assigned to Columbia University, working under Dean David B. Truman. He will observe the "inner workings" of the host institution to gain administrative experience.

MacLachlan was chosen for an internship from more than 200 nominees from U.S. colleges and universities.

Purpose of the internship program, supported by a Ford Foundation grant, is to strengthen leadership in American higher education by enlarging the number and improving the quality of prospects for key positions in academic administration.

Housing Park Planned On City Eastern Edge

A 102-acre housing development which would provide living units for 5,000 persons and would cost an estimated $25 million is being planned for the eastern edge of Carbondale.

The development, which would be named Lewis Park Heights in honor of the late Dr. John S. Lewis, on whose estate the housing will be constructed, would provide quarters for 3,000 single students and about 800 families.

The developers of the housing area, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Lewis, J. W. McKinney and James E. Walker, all of Carbondale, have asked for a hearing June 1 at the City Hall. The development plan will be submitted to the Carbondale Plan Commission and the City Council for approval.

The developers are asking that 75.2 acres of the area be annexed into the Carbondale city limits.

The site is bordered on the west by Wall Street, on the east by Lewis Lane, on the south (approximately) by Grand Avenue and on the north (approximately) by Walnut Street.

The development would have a gradual transition from single family housing at the north, to duplex housing, low-rise apartments and high rise apartment buildings in the core of the area.

The west end of the property, nearest the SIU campus, would contain the student dormitories. The high-rise apartment buildings would be situated in a 10-acre park in the center.

A loop road is proposed to carry traffic through the housing area. The road would be connected to main area streets.

Facilities for off-street and underground parking are also being planned.

A need for multifamily housing and off-campus student housing, because of the rapid growth of SIU, is cited as a major reason for developing the area.

20 Students Plan Ad Campaigns for St. Louis Agency

A group of 20 seniors in the advertising sequence of the Department of Journalism will present real-life campaign projects to the D'Arcy Advertising Co. of St. Louis on May 26.

Members of the class in Advertising Campaigns, were divided into four independent teams. Each has been cooperating with the D'Arcy agency on two projects.

The first was an assignment to develop an advertising program for Canon cameras. The Japanese-made cameras are being distributed in this country by the Bell and Howell Co. of Chicago.

Arrangements for the Bell and Howell cooperative project were made by Ray Cummings. He is an alumnus of SIU, and associated with the advertising department of that company.

Library Gets Chair Used By Lincoln

A cane-bottom walnut desk chair which probably on more than one occasion held the lanky frame of President Abraham Lincoln has been presented to SIU for the American Heritage Room of Morris Library.

Gift of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Stinson, Kankakee, the chair originally came from the Washington, D.C. home of William P. Dole, commissioner of Indian Affairs during Abraham Lincoln's administration. Lincoln was a frequent visitor in the Dole home.

The chair now occupies a spot in the center of the American Heritage Room, accompanying the large double-size walnut desk which was the office desk of Daniel Baldwin Parkinson, fourth president of the University.

The room is furnished with a number of Lincoln-association pieces of furniture, including a Victorian hall tree and a massive walnut bookcase. Both were originally in the Dole home and both were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Stinson.

Mrs. Stinson is a descendant of the Dole family, although not a lineal descendant of the Indian commissioner.

The chair was brought to Carbondale by Mrs. W.B. Ewart of Kankakee and delivered to the library by her son-in-law, Marvin Silliman associate director of the Student Christian Foundation, and Charles E. Feirich, field representative in the President's Office.

Mother to Watch Saluki's Last Game at SIU

Saluki baseball captain Bob Bernstein's mother will be on hand this weekend as Southern closes out the 1966 regular season home games.

For Bernstein it will mark the final home appearance of a four-year career. It was his mother who started her son playing the game many years ago.

"I guess you would have to credit my mother for getting me interested in baseball," says the personable third baseman and team captain. "She was a real White Sox fan, and we went to a lot of the games for as long as I can remember. At first I just ran around and ate hot dogs and drank soda, but then I started playing some baseball and really found it interesting."

Bernstein started playing the game at the age of "around six or so," and has been playing it ever since. First it was Little League ball, then high school ball at Lane Tech in Chicago.

As captain of the Lane Tech squad his senior year, Bernstein won the Chicago city batting championship, hitting .540. He came to Southern after being offered a scholarship by Glenn (Abe) Martin, who was then coaching the Salukis.

Since then he has become a permanent fixture in the SIU infield.

His 101 hits thus far in his career have made him only the third player in SIU baseball history to top the century mark in total career hits.

His collegiate batting average stands at .293, including a mark of .348 as a sophomore. Currently he's at .268 for 1966, and has been a defensive standout. A slump earlier in the season, in which he went 0 for 16, dropped his average sharply, but it has been rising steadily.

"I'm not really disappointed about my hitting this year," he says. "I've been hitting the ball hard, but the hits just haven't been dropping in.

A power hitter in high school, Bernstein decided not to try for the fences in college, and is not a line-drive type of hitter.

The only senior on the entire squad, the 5-10, 165-pounder has a lot of respect for his teammates and coach, Joe Lutz.

"The team should really be great next year," he says. "Coach knows a lot of baseball, and I'd just love to be back next year."

Lutz would certainly like to see his third baseman stay.

"Bobby has been a fine contribution to the SIU athletic program," he says. "I'm sorry to see him go, and it's going to be tough to fill his spot."

Majoring in physical education, Bernstein hopes to coach.

"I would like to coach in the Chicago area at a suburban high school," he says.

The sport? Baseball, of course.

Saluki Baseball Games Changed

A change has been announced in the scheduling of the final weekend baseball series at Southern.

The Salukis will play Parsons College in a twinbill at 1 p.m. Saturday. They will meet Parsons again in a single game at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The single game set for 1 p.m. Friday against Illinois College remains the same.

Judo Tournament Set for Sunday

A judo "shiai" (demonstration) has been scheduled for 12:30 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the SIU Arena.

The "shiai," sponsored by the Division of University Extension and the "Sagasu Ichiban Judo Kai," will include tournaments in the boys' junior division, the girls' junior and senior division, and the men's division. A special demonstration has also been scheduled.

The event has been sanctioned by the Judo Black Belt Federation of the U.S.A. and the Chicago Yudanshakai.

THE COLLEGE PRESIDENT: HIS CAUSE AND CURE

Oh, sure, you've been busy, what with going to classes, doing your homework, catching night crawlers, getting married, picketing—but can't you pause for just a moment and give thought to that dear, dedicated, lonely man in the big white house on the hill? I refer, of course, to Prexy.

(It is interesting to note that college presidents are always called "Prexy." Similarly, trustees are always called "Frixie." Associate professors are always called "Axy-Fixy." Bursars are called "Foxy-Woxy." Students are called "Algae.")

But I digress. We were speaking of Prexy, a personage at once august and pathetic. Why pathetic? Well, sir, consider how Prexy spends his days. He is busy, busy, busy. He talks to deans, he talks to professors, he talks to trustees, he talks to alumni. In fact, he talks to everybody except the one group who could lift his heart and rally his spirits. I mean, of course, the appealing, endearing, winsome group in the entire college—delightful you, the students.

It is Prexy's sad fate to be forever a stranger to your laughing, golden selves. He sits in his office, wistfully out the window of his big white house on the hill and watch you at your games and sports and yearn with all his tormented heart to bask in your warmth. But how? It would hardly be fitting for Prexy to appear one day at the Union, clad in an old rowing blazer, and cry daily, "Heigh-ho, chaps! Who's for sculling?"

No, friends, Prexy can't get to you. It is up to you to get to him. Call on him at home. Just drop in unannounced. He will naturally be a little shy at first, so you must put him at his ease. Shout, "Howdy-doo, sir! I have come to bring a little sunshine into your dear and blighted life!" Then yank his necktie out of his vest and scamper goatlike around him until he is laughing merrily along with you.

Then hand him a package and say, "A little gift for you, sir." "For me?" he will say, lowering his lids. "You shouldn't have."

"Yes, I should," you will say, "because this is a pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, and whenever I think of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, I think of you."

"Why, hey?" he will ask curiously.

"Because, sir," you will say, "though you are no longer a young blade, still you gleam and function. Full though you are of years and lumps, rheumy though your endocrines and flaccid your hamstrings, still you remain sharp, incisive, efficacious."

"Thank you," he will say, sobbing.

"So it is with Personna," you will continue. "Naturally you expect a brand-new blade to give a close, speedy shave. But how about a blade that's had hard and frequent use? Do you still expect a close, speedy shave? Well, sir, if it's a Personna, that's what you'll get. Because, sir, like you, sir, Personna is no flash-in-the-pan. Like you, sir, Personna abides."

He will clasp your hand then, not trusting himself to speak.

"But away with gloom!" you will cry jollily. "For I have still more good news to tell you of Personna!"

"How is that possible?" he will say.

"Hearken to me," you will say. "Personna, in all its enduring splendor, is available not only in Double Edge style but also in Injector style!"

He will join you then in the Personna rouser, and then he will bring you a steaming cup of cocoa with a marshmallow on top. Then you will say, "Good-bye, sir. I will return soon again to brighten your dank, miasmic life."

"Please do," he will say. "But next time, if you can possibly manage it, try not to come at four in the morning."

Illinois College, Parsons to Close Salukis' Home Season in Baseball

Coach Joe Lutz will go with Jim Panther on the mound today as his baseball Salukis begin their last home stand of the regular season.

They will take a 23-13 record into the 3 p.m. single contest as they battle the Blue-boys of Illinois College at the SIU diamond.

A three-game series with Parsons College Saturday and Sunday will wind up the home action.

Panther will take a phenomenal 0.43 earned run will take over on the mound for an SIU skydiver, if the diver hits his target.

The diamond extravaganza will begin at 1:45 p.m. when members of the SIU Sport Parachute Club will attempt a "first" on the campus.

It will be an aerial track relay of sorts, as two jumpers will jump three seconds apart. The second jumper will try to catch the first and hand a smoking baton to him... only instead of letting it go at that, the two will come down together in 15 seconds of free-fall.

They will then open their chutes, with one trying for the pitcher's mound and the other going for home plate.

Prior to the above stunt, an SIU chutist will jump alone and try to land on second base.

The jumps will begin from 15,000 feet. Southern recently won the NCAA parachute championship.

Win, lose or draw, Southern will end the 1966 home season on a high note.

JIM PANTHER

average into the contest. He is still 4-2 for the season.

Don Kirkland and Wayne Sramek have been tabbed as the starters Saturday against Parsons in the twinbill slated for 1 p.m. Kirkland has a 6-1 record, and Sramek owns a 3-3 mark.

Parsons should provide the stiffest test of the year for the Salukis, as the Wildcats have a real powerhouse this year. Lutz formerly coached at Parsons, and he would like nothing better than to take a three-game sweep.

Southern will have to be at its best, however.

The home final will begin at 3 p.m. Sunday, and if all goes well, Bill Liskey will actually start on the mound as a reliever.

Liskey, who has sparked after losing his first two starts of the year to win six straight,

Netmen Hope to Beat Notre Dame In Season's Final Match Today

SIU will be playing its final tennis match of the season at 2 p.m. today, and Coach Dick LeFevre is expecting a large crowd to turn out for the home battle against Notre Dame.

In a previous match on April 21, the Saluki netmen lost to Notre Dame, 4-5, and this match should be even tougher for the Salukis, because they lost their No. 1 man, Joe Brandi.

Brandi, a sophomore from Santurie, Puerto Rico, left school three weeks ago, forcing LeFevre to move his No. 2 man, Mike Sprengel-meyer, up to the top position, and the rest of the five men on the squad also moved up.

The shift in the lineup will be noticeable in the Notre Dame match, because each Saluki will be meeting tougher competition today than the previous match.

LeFevre is still optimistic about the match, however, and feels that Southern stands a chance of winning.

The Notre Dame match is the final one this season for SIU, finishing out a series of four home meets.

The order of the lineup today for the Salukis will be

Hartzog Recruits Top Local Sprinter For Frosh Squad

The SIU track squad will have a potentially great sprinter on its freshman squad next year.

Coach Lew Hartzog has signed Trico's Allen Deppe, the top sprinter in high school track in Southern Illinois this season, to an athletic scholarship at SIU.

Last weekend, Deppe won the 100- and 220-yard dashes in the district meet at Carbondale. His times were 10.1 and 22.4, respectively, which qualified the all-around Trico athlete for the state meet at Champaign this weekend.

Deppe has recorded better times in both events earlier in the season, clocking 9.9 in the 100 and 20.8 in the 220.

This was Deppe's first year of high school competition, since Trico had had no track program until this year, when Coach Loris Lambert started it.

SIU Coach Lew Hartzog said, "It's remarkable how well he's done this year with such little formal experience."

"He should really be able to improve," the Saluki mentor said.

West Frankfort's Tom Freeman is the next star on Hartzog's recruiting list.

Supposedly, Freeman is undecided between SIU and Missouri.
